REPUBLICAN AND FREE STATE PRINCIPLES TO BE TRIUMPHANT.—The following extract from an article in the last number of the Kennebec Journal shows clearly and well the importance and value of the Republican organization—and thinking men will perceive at the same time, how necessary is the continuance of such a party to maintain and make permanent the triumph of free principles in our Republic.—Once withdraw the pressure upon slavery, and it will at once renew its encroachments.

In closing a leading article upon Kansas matters the Kennebec Journal says:

"The whole course of the national government toward Kansas, since the commencement of 1854, has been one of fraud, usurpation, astounding crime, a war of conquest against the Free State men of that territory.

"But the signs now are that the Free Labor ers will triumph, and that the national government and its ruffians will have to retire beaten from the field. Thanks to the framers of our governmental system and the irrepressible energies of the Free Laborers of our country, there is a constitutional power in the nation stronger than the government itself. The broad and increasing tide of emigration is flowing into Kansas, submerging and drowning out the minions and cohorts of slavery. Buchanan, Atchison and Stringfellow are to be subdued and driven from the territory by the insulted and outraged genius of Free Labor with its strong rough hands.

"Or, what is now not improbable, Buchanan Cobb and Walker may try to make a virtue of necessity by allowing Kansas to come into the Union free, provided her politics can be made of the National Democratic type. But it is too late for the pro-slavery Democracy. "The blood of the martyrs has been the seed of the church." The blood of the slain hundreds of Free State men has brought forth fruit in the thousands of resolute and determined men who are pouring into the territory from the Republican North to make there homes for themselves and their posterity.

"To the Republicans of the nation belongs the credit of wrenching Kansas from her invaders, and making it a Free State. Though beaten at the polls in the great national contest of 1856, they have wrung victory from defeat by the power and impetus they have imparted to the emigrating masses that are now taking possession of the soil of Kansas, with consequences the most momentous and lasting to this republic."

The Times at the West.

One of the business firms of our city received a letter from a correspondent in Iowa last week, from which we are permitted to make the following extracts, showing that the condition of things at the west is not such as should induce any prudent man to leave his business in New England, even if it be "dull times" with us at present. The writer says:

"Such times as we are now having were never known before in this State. To pay what one owes is not expected. If men can get money to buy bread and meat it is all that is done—and in some cases of even good men more than all. It is perfectly unaccountable what has become of the money. A large banker assured me that nine out of ten of good and punctual men in ordinary times fail this spring to pay their notes at maturity.

"Our spring is very cold and backward.—Cattle are dying for want of food."

(The date of the letter is April 27th.)

The people of Augusta have raised about $12,000 to secure the appointment of the next State Fair in that city. One day's canvassing secured a guarantee of $10,000. Where is Portland?—Argus

Portland, we think, is in the south western part of his State, on the shores of the beautiful Casco Bay—bounded on the north by Back Cove, south by the new pier for the 'Great Eastern' east by the Grand Trunk, west by 'Saccarap' and the Reform School—and the State Fair is to be held in Bangor, commencing Sept 29th and continuing four days. So say the Trustees. Portland is a fast city, but the Argus is behind time.

ARREST OF A RUNAWAY. Martin Dolan, a boy of 14 belonging in this city, who ran away last week with $126 belonging to his father, was arrested in Albany on Friday last, immediately on his arrival in the train from Boston. A telegraphic despatch brought him up.

Mr Benjamin G Dey, of Currituck county, N C, while ploughing in his field a few days ago, dug up a pile of old Spanish gold and silver coin to the amount of six thousand dollars. It is supposed to have been buried during the revolution.

Two lads recently sentenced to the Reform School, escaped from that institution on Saturday. They were found in Portland on Sunday, and restored to their late quarters.

The East Maine Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church commences at Camden on Wednesday next. The steamers from this city carry passengers to the Conference at reduced fare.

A child of three years, son of a Mr. Buker, was run over and killed in Saco, on the 9th inst.

The Eastport Sentinel says the plum trees in that region are nearly all dead.

For the Whig and Courier.

MR. EDITOR: Cities as well as men have the one glory of an individuality. So Naples has its lazzaroni, Florence its puppet-shows or travelling Pulcinellas, New York its rag-pickers, and Bangor its—cows. We hope to be pardoned for any assault on the rights and peculiar privileges of Cow-dom, when we protest against the streets of such a fine city being converted into a pasture for these quadrupeds. Perhaps we rise for the quiet of a morning walk,—we go forth early that we may be a little in advance of the noisy, toiling life that is just arousing itself, but ah, the cud-chewers (we mean the four-footed ones) have possessed the field before us! Here are cows of every color—shaded, ring-streaked, and speckled, cows of every temper—meek, amiable and quarrelsome, cows of every quality—why, the most fastidious dairyman need be at no loss for a choice—yonder, is the narrow-backed, long-limbed, ugly-eyed, that he would not think worth her winter fodder, while nearer, is the fine-muzzled, well ribbed, low-flanked, yellow-skinned, that he would snap at as a bargain for almost any price. We despair of the morning, and saunter out at twilight, only to be haunted by the same indefatigable vision, and on the whole conclude there was never so suggestive a place for studying cowology as Bangor. It is rare indeed that the literary and the rural ally so closely. Now we confess to the ownership of a good deal of romance and love for the rural as well as the literary. It is pleasing to read in the Pastorals, of the "bleating flocks down by the shallow stream," or how

"In rank pastures graze
Singly and mutely the contented herds"—

but we appeal to you, Mr Editor, if there is not a ludicrous inconsistency between lowing herds, and plank sidewalks, and hotel coaches.—You may retort that this is merely a matter of fancy, hardly important enough to commend itself to our worthy Mayor and his adjutants. Then for a bit of an argument, prefacing which I am willing to admit (only under nom de plume, however,) that my bravery is not quite equal to my pride. Imagine, then, into what a miserable predicament I am brought, when, sailing down street with flying colors, my prospective is suddenly filled with one of the bovine genus planted directly across the planks. I approach with increased bluster and flourish, hoping the animal will take a timely hint. She proves obtuse. When quite near, I am at a loss how to proceed, but unwilling to yield the battle without a show of fight, I invoke the spirit of Don Quixote, and raise my parasol threateningly. The animal doesn't budge, but responds by lowering her horns in my direction ominously. This gesture is enough for me. I am peaceable—"don't want to have any words about it," or in plain English, I am completely cowed, so, politely stepping into the street, I make a wide circuit of Mully's back extremity, and meekly resume the sidewalk, not, however, without many stealthy glances to see if my audacity is to be punished by instant pursuit, for I know I should never get sufficiently accustomed to the tossing operation to relish it.

Still more heartily does my romance approve of dogs. There is something noble in the daring of the Newfoundlander and I grow enthusiastic in admiring his exploits, but in the hot summer days there is a possible reality that gripes and mangles one's admiration unsparingly, it is the thought of "hydrophobia." All which shows that "the things we read of, and the things we see, are quite unlike each other."

To quiet all minds, the law provides the muzzle for dogs, and let us hope it will sometime clear the streets of the above mentioned horned intruders. We like to read of cattle browsing in the rich green fields, or on the river banks, and we would prefer to see them there.

Police Court.

May 12, 1857.

William Martin was arrested by Officer Persons, and carried before the Police Court, charged with assault and battery upon Wm. D McLaughlin on Sunday night, 10th inst, at his house on Fourteenth Street, and on examination was adjudged guilty, and was fined four dollars, and costs six dollars and eighty-three cents, and for want thereof was committed to his old quarters in the county jail.

Martin has been a troublesome fellow and when arrested resisted the officer and escaped, but was pursued and captured on board of a vessel.

MAY 13th.

Joseph White and Asa F Hanson of Atkinson, charged with selling a diseased hog to F J & G Elder on Monday last, were arrested by the same officer, but on an examination by His Honor Judge Pratt, it did not appear that there was any knowledge on the part of the defendants that the hog was diseased, and they were accordingly discharged.

MAY TRAINING. The Bangor Light Infantry and the Brewer Artillery were out on drill, yesterday afternoon, and passed through our principal streets—making their usual handsome and soldierlike appearance.

Col Joseph Hall, of Camden, has received an appointment by Collector Austin, in the Boston Custom House.

We would again call the attention of our readers to the advertisement for a Grand Musical Festival in Boston, with a programme of performance—the price of season tickets with reserved seats, and where they can be had—and we advise all who wish to secure a seat, to lose no time in doing so, as it is confidently believed that the spacious Music Hall will not contain one half of those who may wish to attend.

Dye's Wall Street Broker, published at New York, claims to have a great curiosity forthcoming. It says:

Our Coin Book will contain a fac simile of the silver coin received by Judas Iscariot for the betrayal of the Savior of men. We took a drawing of the piece while on a journey last year to the East, at the great museum in Rome, where they claim to have one of the identical pieces. A great curiosity, and worth a whole year's subscription.

France—Her Decline.

A recent article in the London Times presents the following views, regarding the decline of Liberty and Population in France:

France is very powerful, much richer than she was, she has a capital which is the resort of the world, and a court which yields in magnificence to none. But of late years, and especially since the establishment of the empire, there has been a strange dejection among the educated classes, and all those who think or profess to think on political subjects. Railways, gold coinage, increase of trade and revenue, have failed to restore cheerfulness to a large class of Frenchmen. Amid the feast of prosperity they have always seemed to see a sword suspended over the country. While all Europe has been sounding the praises of France, France itself has been unsatisfied.—The De Profundis of the old political world and the old literary world has mingled with the official Te Deum of the Imperial retainers. All this was to be expected. In France the liberty which was battled for during 60 years is extinct—certainly for a long time, perhaps for ever. Can we wonder, then, that the eminent men who gained fame and position amid the contests of free political life should in their old age look with anger on the destruction of all they had founded, and anticipate only decay for the country which has betrayed itself and them.

The prevalent feeling which has resulted from these auguries of ill has been deepened by the publication of the last census. The increase of population during the five years ending 1856 was only 256 000 souls, while the census of 1840 gave an increase of 1,170,000. Now, as the Frenchman is not an emigrant, rarely quitting his country to cultivate the wilderness of the New World or the Antipodes, this almost imperceptible increase of population is certainly a discouraging sign. Not more than 10,000 French emigrate yearly, it follows, therefore, that the stationary character which population seems now to have assumed must result from some deficiency in prolific power, the consequence of deterioration of race or material obstacles which society should remove. There does, indeed, seem to have been lately a rapid diminution in the rate of increase, until in the present day the increase has almost vanished. But for more than half a century the French have not been a prolific people.

In 1790 the population numbered 26 500,000, that is it was almost equal to the population of the British Islands at the present day. At that time Great Britain hardly contained more than 10,000,000 souls, while Ireland, with some 4 000 000 more, was rather a burden than a support. But now things have indeed altered. The British people have increased and multiplied and replenished the earth in a manner beyond example. If we take Great Britain alone, we find that the population has considerably more than doubled since the French Revolution, while that of France has scarcely increased more than 35 per cent. Notwithstanding Irish famines and English strikes, cholera and short harvests, the number of children born has been continually in enormous excess over the deaths. But in France we find that every natural or political calamity checks the increase in a marked manner. In 1847 the excess of births over deaths fell from 237,000 to 62,000 on account of the scarcity, and this small excess was again diminished to 13 000 by the cholera of 1849.

Things grew worse after 1851, under the double influence of scarcity and war, till in 1854 and 1855 the deaths for the first time exceeded the births. Thus we learn the astonishing fact that at the present time the population of France is actually diminishing, although emigration has almost entirely ceased. War, a succession of bad harvests, the grape blight, and the disease of the silk worm, are all pointed to as having a share in producing this startling result, but we cannot but feel that there must be some cause deeper and more abiding than any of these. For the last thirty years, at least, the proportionate increase has been steadily lessening, and the present time only witnesses the change from increase to diminution. This is a fact which may somewhat justify a GUIZOT or a DE TOCQUEVILLE in their mournful tone.

ACCIDENT. As Judge Davis was leaving town on Friday of last week, in the carriage of John C Talbot, Jr, Esq, on his way to Columbia to spend the night and take the stage the next morning for Bangor, he was upset while crossing the upper bridge in this town. The accident was occasioned by turning out to pass a loaded team, which brought the hub against a post and upset the carriage, throwing both his Honor and Mr. Talbot furiously upon the bridge. The Judge jumped and striking upon his feet fell forward and bruised his knees considerably. Mr Talbot struck upon his head cutting and bruising it somewhat though not severely. The horses cleared themselves from the carriage and stopped after running a short distance.

It is said that the Judge facetiously remarked to Mr Talbot on getting up, that he "didn't suppose he would turn him out again so soon."

NEARLY BURIED ALIVE.—Wm. Eckman, of Cleves, Hamilton County, Ohio, was taken violently ill on the morning of the 15th ult, and according to two physicians who attended him, died about five o'clock the same day. The next morning he was placed in a coffin and carried in a market wagon to the church, about two miles distant, where a funeral sermon was preached. As the last hymn was about to be sung the audience were startled by unusual noises and the sound of vigorous kicking, proceeding from the coffin. The coffin was speedily opened, when Eckman was found literally "alive and kicking," struggling to free himself from his unwelcome position. Blood was flowing freely from his mouth and nose, but in a few minutes he was able to speak, and the next day he was able to walk about his room.

Mrs. Cunningham Burdell, after her acquittal on Saturday, proceeded to the house in Bond street which was the theatre of the murder, with her family, and she will remain there until the question is decided by the Surrogate as to the validity of her marriage with Dr. Burdell. She was visited by a large concourse of persons, among whom were many who were merely curious and impertinent.

We understand that Dr Sheldon preached his farewell sermon in the Elm St Church, Sunday. We were not present but understand that the exercises were interesting. At the close of the services, Dr Nourse, as chairman of the Committee of the Summer Street Church, generously tendered Dr. Sheldon and his congregation the use of that building.—What arrangements will be made we cannot yet definitely announce.—Bath Tribune.

It is estimated that more than ten thousand sewing machines were made and sold in this country during the last year. This is two low—say twenty. More than two hundred patents have been granted and applications for new ones are so numerous at Washington that it requires the entire services of one individual to examine them. The inventors of reaping and mowing machines are equally numerous.—Post.

REPUBLICAN TRIUMPH IN INDIANAPOLIS. The city election in Indianapolis was held on Tuesday. The Republicans elect their Mayor by 150 majority. PERPETUAL MOTION COME ROUND AGAIN.—The Hallowell Gazette is very positive that independent perpetual motion has been demonstrated, and with power sufficient to drive machinery. We shall believe it when we see it demonstrated. We give the Gazette's announcement, however.

A gentleman residing in this city, Mr Cyrus Putnam, has been for some time engaged in perfecting his model for the Patent Office, and has now nearly completed his arrangements for the exhibition of his mechanical wonder at Washington. There can be no doubt of the success of this discovery. We have refrained until the present time from alluding to this invention, as Mr. Putnam preferred to have the matter remain quiet until he was prepared to make a demonstration of his success. We doubt not he will secure a patent, make a fortune—as he richly deserves for his perseverance—and enroll his name among the scientific lights of the world.

ADVENTURE AT A MASKED BALL.—A letter from Berlin mentions a singular adventure of a young officer who rode from Pasewalk, twelve miles, to Berlin, for the pleasure of attending a court masquerade, having leave of absence only for a few hours. He did not arrive in Berlin till late, and found the friend he had expected to accompany already gone to the ball. The card of admission was left for Lieut. Von R——, however, and he lost no time in seeking for a mask and domino. After going to several places he found a white silk domino with a cap ornamented with a white, a red, and a blue feather, and a band of the same three colors, which had been made expressly to order, but as it had not been called for at the hour named, the shopkeeper had no scruples about disposing of the article.

The young lieutenant was soon equipped, and in a quarter of an hour was among the masked guests, in the royal castle. He had hardly walked through the rooms, when a lady dressed exactly as he was, came quickly toward him, seized his arm, and whispered:

"For mercy's sake where have you been? I have waited this hour. Now, make haste away!" She drew him quickly into the hall and down the staircase. The officer yielded willingly, for the slender form, white rounded arm, and sweet youthful voice of his companion gave promise of rare loveliness, and the adventure was to his taste. At her bidding he called one of the coaches that stood at the door, and helped her in, he pausing with his foot on the step, asked—"where the man should drive?"

"I do not understand you!" said the lady in a tone of reproach, "you know—to Brandenberg!" The lieutenant whispered to the coachman to drive out of the farthest gate, and to stop at the first inn—and sprang in to the carriage.

"Ah Pierre," exclaimed the lady, "now the step is taken, I half repent! You will not abuse my confidence."

Her companion assured her he would not.

"Did you find any difficulty," she resumed, "in selling my diamonds?"

"Oho! Monsieur Pierre has been selling diamonds!" said the officer to himself, "and who knows what he has done with the money!" He began to feel compassion for the deceived one, and to ponder how he should break the truth to her. To her reproach for his silence he answered,

"I must confess that the step we have taken——"

"Have you not urged me to it!" cried the lady quickly. "You cannot forget how reluctantly I consented."

"It is not too late to return, the step can be retraced without awakening suspicion," said the gentleman in his natural voice.

"Gracious Heavens! Who are you?" cried the lady in the wildest terror. "How came you in that dress, which has enabled you to deceive me?"

The lieutenant explained all, and dwelt on the supposition that the lover she expected had gone off with her jewels. He concluded by advising her immediate return to the hall before her absence could be noticed. On their way back, the lady showed her confidence in his honor by revealing her name. She was the daughter of the Minister Von B——. Her lover was her father's secretary, a French emigrant, who pretended to be of noble family, and despairing of the paternal success, had persuaded her to an elopement for the purpose of a private marriage.

They reached the castle in good time and the fair Mademoiselle Von B——was soon mingling among the dancers, not one of whom was the wiser for her absence. This romantic adventure ended in her marriage to the officer, for nothing was ever heard of the diamonds.

THE FINE ART OF MURDER.—The English Opium Eater was not so far wrong as might be supposed in his fantastical essay treating murder as a fine art. It is, certainly, the most engrossing of all arts at the present time, and is more sure of gaining the attention and sympathies of the public. When a murder trial is in progress, all other subjects of public interest are held to be of secondary importance. The public hunger and thirst after every detail connected with a deed of blood, and when there are no actual cases of murder to comment upon and gloat over, they will go to theatre and sit a whole evening to see Othello smother his fair wife, to witness the terror of Macbeth as he gazes on his bloody hands after having slain his sleeping guest, or to see Medea rush wildly into her tent to destroy her two children. The Burdell murder has furnished the public with a bloody treat for the past three months, and the eager demand for the reports of the late trial of Mrs. Cunningham proves that the appetite for such revelations is still unabated. The valetudinarians who seek for amusement in the newspapers still "relish their murder," and, until there is a radical change in human nature, the demand for such exciting reading is likely to continue.

But the term fine art could never be applied with stricter propriety to a case of murder than in this very murder of Dr Burdell, which has been engrossing the attention of the public.—There never was a murder committed before, where the perpetrator of it seemed more certain of being detected, and where escape seemed to be so hopeless, yet so adroitly was the deed done, so much art, and that, too, of a decidedly fine character, was bestowed upon the foul deed, that no clue has yet been discovered either as to the time when the deed was done, nor by whom, nor how. It is very evident that the devilish act of the murderer has, thus far, directed all suspicions and investigations in the wrong direction, and by the aid of the Coroner assisted the real culprit to escape suspicion.

The trial of Mrs. Cunningham has not brought to light a single circumstance calculated to fix the guilt of the murder upon any one. The mystery remains as dark and unfathomable as ever, and the excitement caused by the first developments before the Coroner's Jury will only be increased by the failure to elicit any testimony tending in the slightest degree to point to the real culprit.—N. Y. Times.

We are pleased to learn that a despatch was received from New Orleans yesterday, stating that Mr. March had still further recovered and had started on his way home.—Journal.

FIAT LUX.

The whole structure of a Fish is as evidently adapted for swimming as that of a bird for flight, and the WELL DRESSED FISH is as well adapted to grace the table, to stimulate the appetite, and build up the human body, as is the flesh of innocent sheep or slow oxen. It is my pleasure, just now, to speak of the facilities for obtaining a supply of the oviparous vertebrate animals which breathe water, than to give a discourse on that interesting science of ichthyology, because it is among the first duties and delights of mankind—to eat and drink and enjoy the fruits of their labor. Be it known then by my numerous friends and the good natured Fish eating public and men of all pursuits of all persuasions and of all political parties, whether in office or out of office, that the indefatigable THOMAS BICKFORD has worked his way with the improvements of the age, and is better than ever prepared to serve the public, separately or collectively, with the best of FRESH FISHES in all their seasons and varieties.

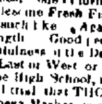

The world renowned M. Agassiz is still engaged in the Fish business, and delights in the scaly matter; but while the great naturalist is seeking the acanthopterygian, malacopterygian, and other genera, I am seeking the best mode of furnishing to the good people good and wholesome Fresh Fish, Corned Fish, Lobsters, Clams, and such like. Agassiz pure in the science and I the strength. Good people will differ as you may as to the rightfulness of the Dred Scott decision, the prosperity of the East or West, or the propriety of one session or two of the High School, in this thing you will all agree after a full trial that THOMAS BICKFORD'S Stall at Norombega Market is amply and elegantly supplied with the best of FRESH FISH.

The time of the singing of birds has come, and so too has the time of Salmon and of Shad and other dainties of the Fisheries, and Bickford is still fishing for something new in his line, and employing lots of lines and sometimes even the telegraph line, to get abundance of FRESH FISH in season.

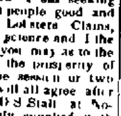

☞Don't forget the place—at Norombega Market—nor the man BICKFORD, nor the genuine fresh and sweet and toothsome article—FRESH FISH—fragrant as new made hay. Finem respice.

The American Tract Society.

NEW YORK, May 13.

At the business meeting to-day of the American Tract Society, the report of the investigating committee was read by the Hon. Judge Culver.

The matters discussed in the report is the publishing of the Society as to publishing or refusing to publish tracts against the sin of slaveholding. It takes the ground that the Society cannot, be made the special organ of any class of religious or moral reform, such as temperance, peace, anti-popery, &c., while in its proper sphere it is to sustain the cause of truth and righteousness in all its departments; that in the attempt to accomplish its mission, the society does not, and cannot, and bear impartial testimony against all forms of fundamental error and practical immorality, in whatever and every part of the country it may be found; that while the political associations may go beyond the province of the Society's publications, the moral principles which grow out of the existence of those political evils and vices are known to promote, do fall within the province of the Society, and can and ought to be discussed.

The resolution of Mr. Thompson of the Board was adopted unanimously with a single dissenting voice from all parts of the house.

Alpine Hair Balm,

—FOR—

Restoring Gray Hair to its Original Color

WARRANTED to cure Baldness, Scurf, Dandruff, Itching, and all diseases of the skin. This Balm gives the scalp a new and healthy action; restores the coloring matter to the roots of the Hair, which passes through the Hair and gives it a natural color without the use of Hair Dye.

Hundreds of preparations have been introduced, pretending to preserve the Hair and keep it from falling off, composed of Oils, Alcohol, and other deleterious materials, and all to no use. Hair dyes have been introduced that do not give the Hair a natural color, besides being troublesome to use. This Balm is not a Dye. Knowing that a preparation was needed to do what was required for the Hair, the proprietor was induced to experiment until he could obtain an article that would be the exact remedy, and after seven years trial has perfected this Balm. It is soothing and emollient, allays all irritation of the scalp, thereby stopping that troublesome itching. It cures Dandruff, and Scurf, and when the hair has turned gray it will bring it back to its original color, be it Black, Brown or Auburn. It makes the Hair soft and glossy, prevents it from falling off as will be seen upon using this Balm for only a few days—life will be given to the roots of the Hair, and growth will soon appear. Growth does not take place at the end of the Hair, as will be seen in persons who have had their hair dyed. If you examine gray hair that has been colored for a week, you will find, towards the roots, that the hair has come out gray, hence it is necessary to have the fluid at the roots of the hair healthy, that the whole hair may be a natural color. Each hair has a root in the skin, and is of itself a hollow, gray tube, thro' which there is a constant circulation of the pigment from the root. When this pigment or coloring matter dies out, it leaves the hair hollow, and it becomes gray. To invent a Balm that would produce this pigment has become the study of the proprietor. The discovery of the Alpine Hair Balm will do it. It will bring the hair to its natural color by making a new the coloring matter in the roots of the hair.

It is a mistaken notion that oil or grease will restore the hair, as nothing can be more injurious. The Alpine Hair Balm will restore the skin and save the hair of those who have been sick with fever or any other disease.

LINCOLN'S WATER PROOF BLACKING,

AND LEATHER PRESERVATIVE.

Keep your Feet dry and you will seldom need a Physician

IS it not a truth that when the feet are often wet, it is one of the greatest causes of colds and consumption? It is a truth that when leather is often wet and dried, it soon becomes hard, stiff, and cracks but when it is water proof this is remedied By the application of this preservative, it remains soft, and entirely impervious to water

After being engaged for 25 years in the manufacture of Leather in all its branches and being often troubled with wet feet myself, I was led to experimenting on different compositions and found it easy to make it water proof but at the same time extremely injurious to the leather At last by a chemical process, I discovered a preparation which perfectly harmonizes with the astringent properties with which leather is tanned It will not only make leather water proof, but it likewise softens the leather and it will

Positively wear twice as long.

I have now used it for three years and a large part of that time have worked in a wet Tannery, with my boots constantly in water, and have not had my feet wet during that time I can therefore in all confidence recommend it to the public as the best article in the market

THE LUXURY AND PROFIT OF HONEY MAKING.

☞Torrey's Bee Hive.

THE subscriber, having purchased the right of making and selling Davis Patent Bee Hive for the Counties of Penobscot Lincoln and Sagadahoc, which has been received with so much favor and taken the first premiums wherever exhibited has introduced an improvement into the Bee Hive and is now prepared to make the same in connection with the Davis Platform, and to sell rights to towns and individuals

This Bee Hive, thus improved, is admitted by persons acquainted with the honey making business to be superior to every thing yet invented for the purpose. It covers all the requisitions for the profitable maintenance of the apiary, by providing for ventilation at all seasons of the year—room for the exercise and feed of the bees—convenience for the removal of excrement, for the proper separation of the swarms, and generally for the health and comfort of the workers

The boxes used in this Hive for storing honey, are the best adapted in their size, for the market, holding from three to six pounds each

The subscriber wishes to purchase one hundred swarms of bees in exchange for bee hives and individual rights

For sale, fifty swarms of Bees, with the new hives

ONLY ONE BOTTLE

INVIGORATOR OR LIVER REMEDY!

IS REQUIRED TO CURE ANY ONE TROUBLED with Liver Complaints, unless the most desperate of cases, when the second bottle will, with scarce a single failure, restore the patient to health and vigor We wish to call the attention of all to these facts, it is the Invigorator is compounded by a physician who has used it in his practice for the past 20 years, with a success almost incredible, and that it is entirely vegetable being composed wholly of gums

Some idea of the strength of these gums may be formed when it is known that one bottle of the Invigorator contains as much strength as one hundred doses of calomel, without any of its deleterious effects

One bottle is the surest thing known to carry away the bad effects of mineral poison of any kind

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all yellowness or unnatural color from the skin

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring

Only one dose taken before retiring will prevent nightmare

One dose taken at night loosens the bowels gently and cures costiveness

One dose taken after each meal will cure dyspepsia

One dose of two teaspoonful will always relieve sick headache

One bottle taken for female obstruction removes the cause of the disease, and makes a perfect cure

Only one dose immediately relieves cholic

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for cholera morbus and a preventive of cholera

One dose taken often will prevent the recurrence of bilious attacks, while it relieves all painful feelings

☛One or two doses taken occasionally is one of the best remedies for a cold ever known

Thousands of Cases of inflammation & weakness of the lungs have been cured by the Invigorator

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite, and makes food digest well

One dose, often repeated, cures chronic diarrhoea in its worst forms, while summer and bowel complaints yield almost to the first dose.

One or two doses cures attacks caused by worms while for worms in children there is no surer, safer and speedier remedy in the world, as it never fails

There is no exaggeration in these statements They are plain and sober facts that we can give evidence to prove while all who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor

We wish all who are sick and debilitated to try this remedy and test it thoroughly and any who are not benefited by its use we should like to hear from them, as we have yet to hear from the first person who has used a bottle of Invigorator without receiving benefit there are such astonishing medicinal virtues in it that all, no matter how long they have been affected, if their complaint arises from a deranged liver, will be benefited, if not entirely cured

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY Of the Age.

Dr KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds, a remedy that cures

EVERY KIND OF HUMOR;

From the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over 1100 cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its virtue, all within twenty miles of Boston

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Erysipelas

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers

One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst cases of ringworm

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst cases of scrofula

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken

Reader, I peddled over a thousand bottles of this in the vicinity of Boston I know the effect of it in every case So sure as water will extinguish fire, so sure will this cure humor I never sold a bottle of it but that sold another, after a trial it always speaks for itself There are two things about this herb that appear to me surprising, first, that it grows in our pastures in some places quite plentiful, and yet its value has never been known until I discovered it in 1846—second, that it should cure all kinds of humor

In order to give some idea of the sudden rise and great popularity of the discovery I will state that in April, 1853, I peddled it, and sold about six bottles per day—in April, 1854, I sold over one thousand bottles per day of it.

Some of the wholesale Druggists who have been in business twenty and thirty years say that nothing in the annals of patent medicines was ever like it There is a universal praise of it from all quarters

In my own practice I always kept it strictly for humors—but since its introduction as a general family medicine, great and wonderful virtues have been found in it that I never suspected

Several cases of epileptic fits—a disease which was always considered incurable, have been cured by a few bottles O, what a mercy if it will prove effectual in all cases of that awful malady—there are but few who have seen more of it than I have

I know of several cases of Dropsy, all of them aged people, cured by it. For the various diseases of the Liver, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Asthma Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side, Diseases of the Spine, and particularly in Diseases of the Kidneys, &c, the discovery has done more good than any medicine ever known

No change of diet ever necessary—eat the best you can get, and enough of it

DIRECTIONS FOR USE —Adults one tablespoon ful per day—Children over ten years dessert spoon ful—Children from five to eight years, tea spoon ful As no directions can be applicable to all constitutions, take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

(Late Agent of U S Patent Office Washington, under the Act of 1837)

No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby St., BOSTON

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years continues to secure Patents in the United States, also, in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar Assignments recorded at Washington

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents These besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors

In all its forms, as Nocturnal and Diurnal Emissions Nervous Irritability, Premature Decay, Loss of Virility Impotency and all its cases arising from early indiscretion

This excellent Remedy, discovered by the world renowned DR CULVERWELL in London, the most successful practitioner in his line for the last 30 years, is now for the first time offered to the afflicted in the fullest confidence of its extraordinary virtues Its salutary effect is almost instantly felt and it will doubtless at once supersede all other means resorted to, medical surgical or otherwise, to arrest and to cure this awful disease A single trial will convince the most sceptical that a safe and perfect cure may now be had at the expense of a few dollars which up to this date could not be procured for all the gold of the world The heavy expenses incurred in bringing this article before the public could not be risked were its superiority over every means hitherto employed for the same purpose not a sure guarantee that its employment by one person would through recommendation, result in an eventual sale to many

DR CULVERWELL's admirable and entirely novel plan of treating these diseases, is, in the interest of humanity, recommended to physicians throughout the land, to whom every facility will be afforded for testing its wonderful efficacy in their private practice
